

New Glasses

Laurie Galbraith Weckstein

Human, but disconnected

by space,

a voice

told

a bit of information;

a speck of salt, she said.

Just a grain

that gave me something new.

New glasses—

that see a shorter life

and the loss of a breast

or two.