

Inside Business

The Hampton Roads Business Journal • Insidebiz.com

Page 23, September 28, 2009

Academics

Daniel T. DeMarte has been named vice president for academic and student affairs at Tidewater Community College.

DeMarte most recently was vice president for learning at Northeast Wisconsin Technical College in Green Bay, Wis. Previously, he was vice provost for student and learning development at Macomb Community College, the largest community college in Michigan with a student population of close to 60,000. He also was director of research for the National Initiative for Leadership and Institutional Effectiveness.

DeMarte

DeMarte began his collegiate studies at the Community College of the Air Force while serving as a security systems specialist in the U.S. Air Force in the mid 1980s. He later completed his associate degree through the State University of New York at Alfred. DeMarte holds a bachelor's degree in political science and a master's degree in student personnel administration from SUNY University at Buffalo. He earned his doctorate in higher educational administration, with a specialization in community college and organizational leadership from North Carolina State University.