

November 1, 2009

TCC Theatre presents Moliere's comedy, "THE DOCTOR IN SPITE OF HIMSELF"

TCC's Theatre Department will bring the curtain up on Moliere's farce comedy, "The Doctor in Spite of Himself," Nov. 5-8 and Nov. 11-14 at the Chesapeake Studio Theatre, TCC Chesapeake Campus.

This rhymed-verse adaptation of Moliere's play is a fast-paced slapstick comedy about an ignorant peasant woodcutter who is mistaken as a doctor and finds respect and financial reward, even though he knows nothing about medicine. Moliere again shows how easily humans are fooled by some fancy language and a gown.

The Virginian-Pilot

The Daily Break, Page 12, November 1, 2009

