Colleagues,

I write to inform you of Dr. DiCroce's formal decision to disapprove the proposed Full-Time Teaching Faculty Evaluation Plan. While I am disappointed that the proposed plan will not be implemented, I certainly understand the decision made by the President. As you can ascertain from Dr. DiCroce's attached email to me, her decision was not based on the merit of the plan but rather on her need to adhere to the letter of the VCCS policy.

So where do we go from here? I have asked the ad hoc Faculty Evaluation Committee to prepare and submit to the Faculty Senate a final report to include recommendations by our March 2009 meeting. The College Faculty Senate will carefully review their report and make the decision on how to proceed. While at the present I do not know the path or time frame this journey will take, I do know that we will continue on it together.

Again, I would like to thank the ad hoc Faculty Evaluation Committee and all Faculty that participated in the surveys and voting.

Chris Cartwright,
