RE: VT Remembrance

The massacre at the Virginia Tech campus on April 16, 2007 is certainly a day that any faculty member will not forget. This is particular true of an institution such as ours were many of the faculty members, myself included, are Virginia Tech graduates. With this in mind the College Faculty Senate approved a motion at our December 6, 2007 meeting that “calls upon [Tidewater Community College] administration, faculty, staff and students to observe a moment of silence college-wide at the appropriate time in observance of the Virginia Tech shootings.”

I hope that we can work together to plan this time to honor the victims of this tragic event.
