Program Description:

Computed Tomography is an advanced practice area of Radiography. The Career Studies Certificate in Computed Tomography (CT) provides the opportunity for registered radiographers, radiation therapists, and nuclear medicine technologists to acquire the competencies and skills necessary in preparation for certification in CT through the American Registry of Radiologic Technologists (ARRT). Individuals interested in this program must apply by May 31. Admission to the program is limited to the number of available clinical sites, with preference given based on Virginia domicile, Veteran status, and previous TCC Radiography student status. Students enrolled in this curriculum are not eligible for federal financial assistance.

State Licensure/Certification Agency: American Society of Radiologic Technologists (ASRT) <https://www.asrt.org/>

Certification Licensure: Computed Tomography (CT) & Registered Technologist in Computed Tomography
